At USC, theres no question that academics are great. The student life, professors, campus activities and day to day experiences have been vibrant, fun and helpful. The place where id like to see the most change is with the administration. With tuition hikes and the removal

My time at USC has been good because it's good for my specific field (journalism). I've liked the extracurriculars I've been part of, but I think there are also lots of people who have trouble figuring out where they fit at USC (me included at times).

USC has been a very great experience both academically and socially. The surrounding area, however, is quite worrisome at times and students must be very careful when venturing off of campus.
